BATTERED AND BRUISED

Jake Stedman was attacked by an immigrant wielding a pipe, which has led to increased racial tension between local and Slovakian parents outside Luton Juniors in Chatham

BY SIMON ROBINSON

BATTERED 10-year-old Jake Stedman was left with bruises to his face, head and back after a brutal attack by a pipe-wielding woman.

Traumatised Jake was playing with friends outside a shop when the Slovakian woman hit him in the face after he tossed a berry at her.

He was chased down an alley and repeatedly hit with a two-foot long iron bar as he lay curled into a ball.

The attack led to tensions between parents at Jake's school, Luton Juniors, and Slovakian immigrants.

Police remain on patrol outside the Chatham school and have opened talks with community leaders in a bid to prevent the situation from escalating.

Jake's mum, Amanda, 29, said: "I came running out the house and saw him lying in a pool of blood crying. He was completely in shock - he's just a little boy."

"I know he can misbehave and he's easily led but for this to happen is outrageous."

She said Jake is now too afraid to go out.

The youngster said: "She hit me really hard - I was on the floor trying to cover my face but she wouldn't stop. But I managed to get up and run away."

Kent police said an arrest had been made in connection with the attack and that racially-motivated offences would not be tolerated.

A police spokesman said: "There has been a recent influx of Slovakian immigrants and with that comes cultural and language issues."

"It's a situation we are aware of an appropriate action - including a noticeable police presence in the area - has been taken."

Business has the chance to excel in sport

■ BY SIMON ROBINSON

COMPANIES across Medway are being urged to take on the council and police in the inaugural Medway Business Games.

The six event contest will see businesses compete with one another on the sports field for the ultimate honour of being crowned Medway's top sporting business.

The games kick off next month with a one-off six-a-side football tournament and will be followed by table tennis, badminton, netball, golf and athletics events, all of which are set to take place in spring and summer next year.

Nine companies – including staff from Medway council and officers from Medway police – are already limbering up for the contest in the bid to prove themselves as the most sporting company in Medway.

Medway 2012 manager Bob Dimond urged more organisations to swap board rooms and meetings for footballs and golf clubs.

He said: "We are committed to promoting healthier, more active lifestyles and getting as many people as possible involved in sport."

"We know there are hundreds of sports enthusiasts out there just itching to get away from their desks and onto the sports field."

"We're looking for businesses who fancy a post of healthy, fun, sporting competition to get involved."

"Come summer next year one business will have the honour of being named Medway's top sporting business."

The six-a-side tournament will run from 2pm on the Army's Astroturf pitch in Brompton Road, Gillingham, on Friday, October 26.

The deadline for registrations is Friday, October 12.

CONTEST: Medway 2012 manager Bob Dimond wants businesses to join the event

Companies can either enter the whole series or just individual tournaments, but will need to compete in at least four sports to be in contention for the overall title of Medway Business Games champion.

The businesses already taking part are ABC Breakfast club, Furley Page, Henry Schein, Medway council, Medway police, Medway public health team, Scottish Widows and the University of Kent at Medway.

Attack on 10 year old leads to racial tension

"We also set up a meeting with those involved and local politicians which was well attended and we hope will go some way towards preventing further problems."

Parents of Luton Junior pupils said they feared for their children's safety.

Emma Sharp, 26, said: "Just the other day a Slovakian kid hit one of my boys – it was reported to teachers but they seemed reluctant to do anything about it. It looks as though they are getting preferential treatment."

"The parents are not much better – they wait for their kids spitting and smoking in the playground. It's awful."

"And one of the parents even demanded his child mix only with his own kind. But we're accused of being racists if we do stuff like that."

A statement from Medway Council said: "Community cohesion is a shared responsibility for us all."

"Medway schools are typically happy and calm places where children from different backgrounds learn together and get on well."

"We work closely with the police, community support officers and the wider community to play our part in providing good race relations."

Thug caught on CCTV during brutal beating

Victim was left in a pool of his blood

A TEENAGE thug left an unarmed man lying in a pool of blood after whipping him across the face with his belt.

Unemployed Kurt Sahota, 19, struck the man twice as he lay defenceless in Nags Head Lane, Rochester, at 3.25am on Saturday, June 26.

Officers arrived seconds after he brought the second blow down on the victim's head, bringing the violent assault to an end.

The injured man, Michael Walters, was left with a huge gash in his forehead and blood pouring down his face.

Sahota, of Warner Street, Chatham, was arrested and charged with actual bodily harm and possessing an offensive weapon.

He pleaded guilty to both charges at a hearing at Medway Magistrates' Court on Friday afternoon.

The sickening attack was caught in its entirety on CCTV cameras.

The footage showed Sahota and his friends, who had been drinking at the Casino Rooms nightclub, brawl with Mr Walters and two others in Rochester High Street at 3.20am.

■ BY SIMON ROBINSON

When Mr Walters fled across Corporation Street towards Chatham High Street, Sahota and his friends gave chase.

Signalling his intentions, Sahota took his belt off, hiding it folded in half behind his back.

Mr Walters reached Nags Head Lane before Sahota and another man caught up with him.

When Mr Walters tripped on the pavement opposite the Nag Head pub, Sahota and the other man began their attack.

A bottle was thrown by Sahota's friend but fortunately missed its intended target.

Sahota then stood over his victim, bringing the heavy duty metal buckle down on Mr Walters' head twice in quick succession.

Describing the footage as it was played to magistrates, Stella Williams, prosecuting, said: "Sahota chased Mr Walters down the road and attacked him with his belt.

"Blood was pouring from his face and there was a large pool of blood on the floor.

"Mr Walters was left with a large cut to his forehead which required stitches and bruising to his arms, ribs, knee and chin."

Chairman of the bench, Mrs Jahed, said: "These are serious offences, carried out as part of a group which left the victim badly hurt.

"For these offences we are imposing a suspended sentence of 180 days. This sentence will be suspended for a period of 18 months and there are additional requirements.

"You are also required to carry out 240 hours of unpaid work, pay £300 in compensation to the victim and £60 in costs."

CASTLE KEEPING UP APPEARANCES

ROCHESTER Castle has been given a prestigious quality award after ticking every box in an in-depth inspection.

The Norman castle, which has undergone conservation work and a partial re-fit, was deemed by VisitBritain inspectors as giving visitors more than value for their money.

While builders carried out essential structural work on the outside of the castle, designers also got to work inside, re-fitting the shop with new furniture, lighting and a wider range of merchandise.

Work started on building the castle in 1087, with one of William the Conqueror's finest architects, Bishop Gundulf, in control of proceedings.

The castle's great keep, measuring 113ft-high, is one of the tallest in the country and stands 70ft square with walls 12ft thick in places.

EMPLOYER: Chairman Paul Scally needs new man

Fans apply for vacant Gills job

FOUR ardent fans have joined the race to take over the vacant manager's position at Gillingham FC.

The loyal Gills supporters sent their CVs to chairman Paul Scally in a bid to replace Ronnie Jepson, who was sacked two weeks ago.

A club spokesman confirmed their job applications had reached Mr Scally and were up against those submitted from 30 coaches within the game.

The fans' CVs are packed full of top coaching achievements.

Unfortunately, these honours were restricted to popular computer games such as Championship Manager, rather than real life successes.

New future for Strood schools?

COUNCIL chiefs were expected to push ahead with plans to merge a high-achieving girl's school with a struggling boy's school into a new vocational academy.

Medway council's cabinet met as Yourmedway went to press to discuss the future of secondary education in Strood, currently provided by Chapter and Temple schools.

It is believed councillors favoured the proposal to close both schools and merge them into Medway's first multi-million pound academy and were interested in entering a period of consultation with the public.

The idea was unveiled to the schools, parents and pupils on Friday, September 14.

Portfolio holder for children's services, Cllr Les Wicks, said the vision is for an academy which provides a wide range of academic and vocational courses, with enhanced sporting and IT facilities for a school roll of between 1,200 and 1,400 pupils.

He said: "We are looking to the future to ensure all our young people have access to first-class facilities. One of the council's main priorities is to give children the best start in life."

Sue Dore, head of Chapter school, opposed the plans, saying: "We have 1,100 pupils here and have been building successfully year on year. Why do we need to close?"

"The proposal would lose everything Chapter has stood for.

"We're concerned about losing the school ethos which we've built up over the years. We care for each other, support one another when things go wrong and celebrate together when things go well.

"An academy would give us great buildings, which would be lovely to have, but we'd lose that family ethos."

The consultation period is expected to draw a wide range of opinions from pupils, parents, teachers and governors, as Temple boys' school recorded the worst GCSE results in England's education league tables published in January, whereas Chapter girls' school has a good academic record.

Victoria Loftus is off to the Special Games Gymnast is going for China gold

BY SIMON ROBINSON

GYMNAST Victoria Loftus will fly out to China next week to represent Britain in the Special Olympics World Summer Games – after fighting off a stomach bug.

The 15-year-old, who won a gold and silver medal at her first competition five years ago, will fly to Shanghai next Wednesday ready to compete on October 9.

Her medal haul at the last games was all the more impressive considering her past – she is one of the smallest babies ever to survive.

Having been born 12 weeks premature, she measured just 10 inches and weighed just 1lb 4oz, and was left with learning difficulties and a hearing impairment.

Both conditions affect her listening and communication skills, so she has to concentrate and practice twice as hard to learn, master and memorise complex gymnastic routines.

Her involvement in the games was thrown into doubt last week when she was struck down with a stomach bug.

She had been due to fly out today with the rest of the GB squad, but this was delayed and a send-off party planned for Victoria yesterday at the Pentagon Shopping Centre in Chatham was cancelled.

But the brave teenager is fighting off the bug and her mum Sue Mackey says she will be OK to travel and compete in China.

She said: "Victoria had a stomach bug last week and was very poorly but she's recovering well."

"We think she'll be fit enough to fly out to Shanghai on Wednesday."

"We're fantastically proud of her as she's come so far from when she was born. She trains so hard for the Games, putting in 13 hours a week and sometimes training as soon

FIGHTER: Victoria Loftus has been fighting off a stomach bug this week so she can go to China and compete as she gets in from school.

"She's had to be very strong because her learning difficulties make it hard for her to take a lot of information in and learn new routines."

"She said she wants a medal from the Games, at least a silver but she's hoping for a gold."

Victoria will be among 7,500 athletes taking part in the week-long games, which run from October 2 to 11.

Ancient tomb in house garden

IT'S not unusual for Joan Bygrave to have people knocking on her door asking to take a look at her garden.

The pensioner, who has lived in the same house for 40 years has probably the most unusual garden ornament in Britain... her very own prehistoric tomb.

An imposing set of standing stones are all that remains of the burial site which housed the remains of several members of a Neolithic tribe.

Dating from 3,000 years ago – roughly the time Stonehenge was constructed and the Egyptian pyramids erected – the tomb is one of several dotted around the Medway Valley.

And Mrs Bygrave's home, near Snodland and just below the North Downs, has now become a place of pilgrimage for druids, astrologers, dowers, healers and psychics from across the globe.

"My latest visitors were from Azerbaijan," said Mrs Bygrave, 72.

"So far I have had visitors from around 40 countries, from Iceland to Cambodia."

A notice on the gate of her home, called Rosa Alba, gives visitors a number to call and then for a nominal charge of £1 she will conduct a guided tour.

ON THE JOB: Rochester prison where the two sacked prison officers allegedly fell asleep while working

Sacked POs' appeal over sleep claims

TWO prison officers who were sacked for allegedly falling asleep under a prisoner's hospital bed have lodged an appeal against their dismissals.

Guards Fred Cronk and Darren Porter, both employed at Rochester Prison, were sacked after an incident reported to have taken place at Medway Maritime Hospital last month.

The pair had been accused by a national newspaper of handcuffing the offender they were watching over to the bed before pulling out sleeping bags and dozing off.

Officer Tam Drain, assistant Prison Officers' Association branch secretary for Rochester Prison, said Cronk and Porter entirely refuted the claims.

He said: "The only two things the national newspaper got right were the officers' names and the fact they were dismissed.

"Everything else has been totally fabricated. The men are very annoyed and disappointed with the article.

"We'd rather the newspaper had spoken to the POA to get some realistic information.

"The claims the prisoner was handcuffed to the bed and the officers were asleep are not at all true."

■ BY SIMON ROBINSON

The men were sacked after doctors at Medway Maritime Hospital in Gillingham called Governor John Wilson to complain.

A hospital insider was reported to have said: "These guards were incredibly stupid – sleeping on the job is immediately a sacking offence. The doctors were clearly concerned about their safety and that of other patients given the fact the officers were asleep."

A Prison Service spokesman said: "Officers investigated for unprofessional conduct may face dismissal."

The officers' appeal will be heard by the area manager at a date yet to be fixed.

The prison is a mixture of single and double accommodation cells contained on the Victorian-style wings and a further residential unit of single cell accommodation which is used as an Induction Unit.

All inmates are under 21 and it has capacity for almost 400 young offenders, serving less than four years.

The Home Office says it operates a "work and activity-based regime consisting of offending behaviour, education, drug rehab, NVQ based work places, weekend and evening association with access to sports related activities".

Eurostar completes its historic journey

A EUROSTAR train set a new record time for a Brussels to London journey this week and hit 186mph as it roared through Kent.

It took just one hour 43 minutes and 59 seconds for the 232-mile trip from the Midi Station in the Belgian capital to the new terminal at St Pancras, London.

Eurostar worker Seth Williams, who was on board, said: "It was great to be able to take part in such a historic journey."

Teen's HIV fears after she was stabbed with needle

A TERRIFIED teenager said she is scared she could die after being stabbed with a syringe in an unprovoked attack.

Katie Dawson, 19, faces a three month wait before tests can be carried out to see if she has contracted HIV or hepatitis in the sickening late-night assault.

The Strood teenager, who works at the Ship Inn, in Cobham, said: "I might have HIV or hepatitis. My greatest fear is that I could die. I can't stop crying."

Katie was attacked as she sat with friends on a bench in Railway Street, Chatham, at 1am on Saturday, September 15.

Three teenagers – a girl and two boys – walked past and began hurling abuse.

When Katie asked them to stop, the girl lunged forward and stabbed her stomach.

In six weeks time Katie will be tested for hepatitis but must wait for three months before she will find out if she has been infected with the HIV virus.

Police are appealing for information.

Speeding motorists paid the price of initiative

MEDWAY police have launched an initiative to clampdown on speeding motorists.

Officers set up safety checks in Maidstone Road, Rainham, on Friday morning, stopping more than 20 drivers who were over the speed limit.

Seven motorists were issued with £30 fines for not wearing their seatbelts, the others were all advised of the dangers of speeding.

Sgt Craig West said the scheme had been prompted by residents' concerns.

He said: "I hope residents are encouraged that we have acted on their concerns."

Depressed wife walked off clifftop to her death

FORMER Kent cricketer Alan Wells has been left devastated after his wife was discovered dead at a notorious suicide spot.

Witnesses at cliffs in Birling, next to Beachy Head, Sussex, said they saw a woman walking before disappearing over the edge.

A handbag belonging to Melanie Wells, 45, was later discovered and a body recovered from the beach below. Police confirmed the dead woman's identity and it is believed she had been suffering from depression.

Husband Alan, 45, was a middle-order batsman with Kent and also played for Sussex and England.

QUESTION & ANSWER

PAUL SCALLY

Q How are things going at the club?

A As a whole things are going well. The club is pushing forward off the pitch with a number of great initiatives. The sticker book is going well and the new programme and website are looking most professional. We naturally need results to improve on the pitch, but the club is definitely pushing in the right direction and results will soon improve. I'm confident of that because we have a good squad of players.

Q What are the expectations for this season?

A We believe we can earn promotion because we have a number of good players at the club. The squad still hasn't fully 'gelled' but I can see improvements each week and I honestly believe we have the ability to earn a play-off spot by the end of the season.

Q What do you like about Medway?

A The fact that Gillingham Football Club is a sleeping giant is an obvious asset. We are the only football league club in the county and if results improve then we can achieve what we want to – and more. We have plenty of untapped potential and Medway is a great place to be. We are at the heart of the Thames Gateway Regeneration Project and The KRBS Priestfield Stadium is just 45 minutes drive from The City of London and London Gatwick Airport. The Channel Tunnel link with France and Europe is less than 30 minutes away and the Ashford and Ebbsfleet International Rail Terminals are only 25 minutes away. It's the perfect location for a football club.

Q What would you change?

A Well, we would naturally love to be playing in a new arena within Medway. As soon as we move location then everything will be perfect. We are very happy to be here in Medway, we just need a move because the club can then really drive on forwards.

Q What do you make of the Gills' supporters?

A Well, we would love more to come on a regular basis. We should be getting more than 5,000 fans for home matches. Agreed, our away form was poor last season, but we were most impressive here at Priestfield. We played some great football and will continue to do likewise this season. My message is simple. I want fans to support their local club and make lots of noise. Let's get Priestfield rocking.

Q What made you step in and save the club?

A As I've mentioned so far in this piece, I saw lots of potential here at Gillingham.

Medway has a community of 250,000 people, rising to 300,000 people within the next 10 years. Based on potential, there is no reason why Medway, as an area, could not sustain a Premiership football club.

Q Any regrets at all throughout your time as chairman?

A No, not really. Naturally there have been some lows but also plenty of highs. I'm a positive person and prefer to concentrate on the highs we've enjoyed. The club has been to Wembley twice under my chairmanship and has also earned two promotions. The relegation from The Championship was disappointing but I truly believe we can earn promotion again this season and get back to where we should be.

Q What can we look forward to in the coming months and years?

A Like I said, we believe promotion is a viable option this season. We have some good players. Hopefully the new manager will bring the best out of the squad, as well as signing some new exciting players. The new arena is progressing nicely. Unfortunately, I am unable to say too much at this stage but it's a great time to be supporting Gillingham Football Club. We are a club on the up and I urge all supporters to really get behind us and help to play a part in driving this great club forward.

QA Gillingham Football Club chairman Paul Scally spoke to Simon Robinson about his time at the club and reveals what supporters can look forward to in the coming years.

Fury over ex-star's new blow

MP JULIAN Brazier says he is 'horrified' after Home Office chiefs rejected former Kent cricket star Hartley Alleyne's latest bid to stay in the UK.

Despite living here for almost 30 years, the ex-West Indies player saw his second attempt for a work permit rejected.

It means Mr Alleyne, who works as a teacher at St Edmund's School in Canterbury and has three children, could be deported within 28 days.

Now the Conservative politician has called on immigration minister Liam Byrne to personally intervene and over-rule the latest decision.

He has called for an urgent meeting with the minister and penned a strongly-worded letter outlining his dismay at developments.

■ BY GARETH ARNOLD

Barbados-born Mr Alleyne, 50, was originally told he could be slung out of the country in May because he did not hold the relevant qualifications.

He has subsequently achieved the NVQ requested – but still faces deportation.

In his letter to Mr Byrne, Mr Brazier said: "Following our exchange on the residential status of Hartley Alleyne I was horrified to hear that he has been turned down for a work permit, despite having achieved the NVQ which was mooted.

"He has been in this country for 29 years, with a few gaps, and has children who are British citizens here."

The Home Office's decision is based on rules that state a work permit will only be granted if an employer can demonstrate the post requires a NVQ Level 3, HND or Degree qualification.

Despite the fact that Mr Alleyne gained an NVQ qualification over the summer, it remains the case his job at St Edmund's School does not require this level of training.

Jeremy Gladwin, headmaster, St Edmund's School said: "While this is a correct application of the rules, it is a great shame that common sense has not prevailed in allowing Mr Alleyne leave to remain, given the service he has given to English cricket over a 29-year period."

REJECTED: Hartley Alleyne's second attempt at getting a work permit has failed

Letter bomber's protest at 'overbearing society'

A PRIMARY school caretaker conducted a countrywide letter bomb campaign in protest against an "overbearing surveillance society" a court heard this week.

Among the addresses targeted by Miles Cooper, 27, was the home of Michael Wingfield a security company boss from Folkestone and his wife Rosemary.

When police arrested Cooper at his home in Cambridge, they found three more devices assembled and packaged, John Price, prosecuting told Oxford Crown Court.

The trial will last the rest of the week.

Open will return to Royal St George's in 2011

ROYAL St George's Golf Club has announced that The Open Championship is returning to Sandwich, with the economy set to benefit by around £20million.

The club will host the four-day event in 2011 and businesses can expect a bumper windfall.

On the last occasion Royal St George's staged The Open four years ago, 183,000 people flocked to Sandwich – an increase of 50 per cent on its previous visit in 1993.

Ceremony remembers Spurs founder in Dover

A CEREMONY this week recognised to the founder of Tottenham Hotspur FC who lies in a pauper's grave in Dover.

The Rev John Ripsher founded the Premiership club to get the youngsters of 19th century London off the streets.

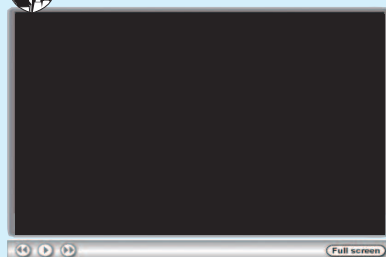

Rev Ripsher lost his sight and died in a workhouse 100 years ago this month and his remains are buried in St Mary's Cemetery.

Spurs' executive director, Paul Barber and Steve Ripsher, a descendant, were present and afterwards the mayor hosted a civic reception.

FUTURISTIC: A pod in the new Liquid club

Venue set to lead club scene

THE clubbing scene in Maidstone is set to be transformed when Ikon reopens in November following a £3 million upgrade.

The new 1,800 capacity club will be relaunched as Liquid and Envy.

General manager Julian Holyoake said: "We plan to provide the ultimate 'must visit' clubbing experience. Our unique touches will really set us apart from our competition."

The Lockmeadow leisure complex in Barker Road will be split into two rooms with a number of party booths overlooking the dance floor.

These futuristic pods will be used as exclusive VIP rooms when the club opens on November 2.

Clubbers attending the Liquid area will also get to experience the latest sound and lighting systems as club chiefs look to attract customers from across the county.

Envy, the second room in the venue, is aimed to accommodate the over 23's with a more chilled atmosphere, private booths and table service.

The venue will also incorporate a brand new smoking terrace on the roof overlooking Barker Road. Liquid and Envy will be open Tuesdays, Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays.

For an exclusive look inside the club log on to Yourkenttv.co.uk to the community channel.

Each week we get a mystery writer to air their views on living in Medway...

Unswerving optimism of the Kent and England fan

BEING an English sports fan has never been that good... and for Kent it has been even more trying over the years.

But a few years ago, something very strange happened. We, as a nation, became quite good at sport.

After years and years of underachieving, suddenly we actually delivered on some of the ridiculously high expectations we have for our sporting heroes.

First there was the England rugby team and triumph in the Rugby World Cup – a glorious win against hosts Australia.

Then there was Kelly Holmes, romping to not one but two Olympic gold medals in the Athens Games of 2004.

And before we could get our breath back, our cricketers dazzled across five enthralling Test matches in 2005 as we won the Ashes and once again wiped that smug smile off the faces of our Australian cousins.

But then, with the sort of crushing inevitability that only English sports fans are familiar with, it all unravelled. The Aussies proved the Ashes defeat was a mere flash in the pan as they waited less than 18 months to whitewash us 5-0.

Our athletes of track and field have barely got a whiff of gold since Greece, and as South Africa walked all over us in the Rugby World Cup the other day it became only too apparent while we have peaked briefly, we lack the get up and go to keep up that level of performance.

You'll notice I haven't mentioned football here...but that is because we have at least had some consistency. Consistently mediocre, consistently unpredictable, consistently not winning any silverware whatever.

All of which was very much the way for the Kent cricket fan in recent years. A lack of silverware of any great note, and an ability to throw away good form at the very point it could actually lead somewhere.

Yet this season something changed. The Twenty20 Cup delivered a cup worthy of the club's trophy cabinet, and amid criticism for the way they did it, the club clinched the necessary points to ensure their County Championship Division One status remains intact for another year. Granted it was not challenging for the title and instead it was seeing off relegation, but at least it made the season genuinely interesting from start to finish – and as any sports fan knows, if that can be achieved without tears at the end, then all is well in life.

So as the cricket season grinds to a halt, let us now start building up the pre-season optimism only sports fans can develop in time for next season.

Let us dream of silverware and glory; of a golden summer of 2008 where centuries flow and opposition wickets tumble. After all, sport is nothing if not unpredictable. And after our nation's miserable efforts elsewhere in recent years, let's hope the talent closer to home gives us all something to cheer about.

TALK TIME

WENDY DAWS

The designer lifts the lid on Medway's art scene and gives an insight into her upcoming exhibitions and shows

Where are you based and what do you make of Medway's art scene?

I am based in Rochester and at the New Art Centre in Chatham High Street, where I make shadow art and also work as spokesman for the Fuse Design Collective.

I only came back to Medway in 2004 and was really surprised at how much is going on. It is all good, however there is always room for more. The New Art Centre is particularly supporting of its artists, unfortunately I am not sure that many Medway residents know about the gallery and workshops.

If I could change Medway in any way I would build more studios so more artists have a place to work.

What shows and exhibitions have you got coming up?

The Fuse Design Collective, made up of 30 emerging artists, has just finished showing their work at the London Design Festival in Mayfair. We formed the collection so we could join in with big design shows like this, as it can be quite difficult to organise as an individual.

Together these designers represent some of the best and brightest design talent in the UK. Some have established distribution, some not, but to show at somewhere as established as the Partridge Fine Art gallery was an amazing opportunity for all of us to flex our muscles against some of the world's all-time greats. It's been very hard work but we wouldn't change that as it's also very rewarding.

My solo exhibition starts next year as well. I'd advise any young artists in Medway to follow your heart, enjoy it and don't let anyone stop you.

YOUR LETTERS

Sticking up for the Twydall area

AS ONE of the Labour councillors for Twydall, I wished to respond to your recent 'mystery blogger' article referring to the area as a forgotten estate.

Far from being a forgotten area "inconveniently situated between Gillingham and Rainham" as your correspondent states, Twydall is a pleasant area and I am proud to represent it.

This does not mean that there are not issues to address, and my fellow ward councillors and I work hard to represent the views of all of our constituents in dealing with those. To illustrate the range of areas where we are involved, in recent weeks we have:

- Supported residents in their opposition to a large takeaway at the Rainham Mark end of the ward helping to secure a refusal for the application at the planning meeting.

- Worked with volunteers to help establish a new youth 'pub club' in the area to give young people additional activities to get involved with.

- Worked with council officers to establish Beechings Way as a pilot area for preventing people from parking on grass verges to help protect the environment – which our residents regularly tell us is one of their key concerns.

- Met with residents, the police and Paul Clark (our MP) to address anti-social behaviour that the residents of one of the closes had been experiencing.

- Worked with council officers on the final designs of two new pedestrian crossings to be constructed, using some of the additional £400,000 that was

BOB'S BROADBAND TV

BOB Geldof has launched Kent TV – the UK's first county council-funded, on-demand broadband television channel.

The anti-poverty campaigner has lived in Kent for more than 20 years and is co-founder of Ten Alps, the media company which won the contract to operate the station for Kent County Council.

He joined council leader Cllr Paul Carter, Nigel Dacre, managing director of Ten Alps, and Tanya Oliver, KCC's head of strategic development unit, on Friday at Maidstone Studios for the official launch.

The service will be available 24-hours a day, seven days a week at www.KentTV.com and has commissioned seven local production companies to produce 28 films.

Sir Bob said: "It's pretty cool – it's very experimental and potentially very interesting."

It comes just two weeks after KOS Media launched its own broadband TV service for the county alongside a line up of brand new newspapers and websites, including Yourmedway.

achieved for road safety in the ward.

In addition, we hold two surgeries a month, hold roving surgeries throughout the ward, and produce and circulate 4 Rose leaflets each year informing residents of what is happening in the area and how to contact us if they have problems.

I am not suggesting that everything is 'rosy in the garden' – how could it be when Medway council is run by the Tories, but nor is it like your 'mystery blogger' would have your readers believe. That raises a major issue about the 'mystery' bit of the 'mystery blogger'. It enables people to write biased articles without people being able to see who they are or what axe they might have to grind. In this case, I assume that it is an active Liberal Democrat who wrote the article, since it praised their actions but failed to mention that the road relating to the petition is where a Lib Dem councillor lives – having moved to Twydall recently from a Lib Dem ward.

Glyn Griffiths
Councillor, Twydall Ward, Medway council

Getting on my smoking platform

FIRSTLY congratulations on producing a very readable publication.

As a regular daily commuter from Rainham to London Victoria, I was furious after reading your article last week about the potential lifting of the smoking ban on open air station platforms. After spending many years enduring wafts of smoke drifting down the platforms from inconsiderate smokers, it came as a great relief in July when smoking was finally banned from sta-

It is absolute rubbish to say it is the stress of commuting that is driving this request. In my experience the services are actually now very reliable, I always get a seat and the services are rarely late. Cancer screening saves lives

I'D like to ask your readers to support Cancer Research UK's new Screening Matters campaign, which aims to make sure that as many people as possible can benefit from the best possible cancer screening programmes.

Cancer screening saves lives. Thousands of women are alive today thanks to breast and cervical screening. The new bowel cancer screening test has the potential to save thousands more men and women across the UK. But we know that even more lives could be saved. Millions of eligible people are not being screened for cancer and we want to see politicians taking action.

As a bowel cancer survivor and campaigner, I know only too well how vital it is to catch cancer in the early stages. This means treatment is simpler and more likely to be effective.

Please help Cancer Research UK put pressure on politicians to provide the best possible screening programmes by signing our petition at www.cancercampaigns.org.uk. But it's not just down to the Government – we all have a responsibility to look after ourselves and our loved ones. That's why we're asking everyone to make a personal pledge too: if you're invited to cancer screening, you'll go and you'll encourage friends and family to do the same.

To pledge your support and find out more, visit www.cancercampaigns.org.uk today.

Hoping for different Chapter for school

AS A parent who has just moved to Strood I have mixed feelings about plans to merge or restructure schools in our area. I was especially worried to read that Temple School and Chapter School may be combined into some new 'vocational academy'.

For my own daughters Chapter School would be a superb choice. But if these merger plans with Temple are chosen as the way ahead, I worry about its future academic record. I hope by the time this letter is published (if you choose to do so) that Chapter's head teacher will have been successful in her wish to convince the authorities to consider other, less damaging, options.

High performing school could merge with worst Parents set to oppose academy

COUNCIL chiefs have revealed plans to merge two secondary schools in Strood into a new £25 million vocational academy – a first for Medway.

The proposal would see Temple School and Chapter School combined and expanded to offer courses such as baby care and engineering.

But the move is set to be controversial with parents, as Temple boys' school revealed the 'worst GCSE league table' published in January, whereas Chapter girls' school has a good academic record.

The new multi-million pound academy would be based on the site of Chapter school and funded directly through government and private sponsorship.

If agreed by Medway council's cabinet next Tuesday planners would start working towards an opening date of September 2009.

Councillor Les Woods said the vision is for an academy which provides a wide range of academic and vocational al courses, with enhanced sporting and IT facilities for a school of between 1,200 and 1,400 pupils.

He said "Chapter school is already a successful and popular school and there is work to be done to bring boys' results in line with the girls in Strood."

"We are looking to the future to ensure all our young people have access to first class facilities. One of the council's main priorities is to give children the best start in life."

Medway council's children's services chief Rose Callaghan said: "We've been concerned about the standards achieved by Temple students for some time."

"We've been working with the school to help them improve and this year's results show a pleasing upward on last year."

"However, we want to see a greater and sustained improvement than we have been able to achieve so far. We are confident these proposals will provide leading edge education."

OBJECTION: Parents are expected to oppose council plans to merge performing schools into one academy opportunities for boys' Strood.

Council chiefs would continue to allow until all the work this September 2009.

Lee's having the last laugh

Ricky Gervais is a huge fan, but his mum prefers Tom O'Connor – so just how funny is Stewart Lee?

ANYONE who has ever enjoyed cutting-edge comedy will be familiar with Stewart Lee's work, even if they don't recognise his face.

His many writing credits include Radio 4's On The Hour, which later became the groundbreaking TV series The Day Today and launched the careers of, among others, Steve Coogan.

He acted as script editor for Harry Hill's first television programme, wrote episodes for Al Murray the Pub Landlord and this year co-scripted a critically acclaimed play with Johnny Vegas.

With a new stand-up tour called 41st Best Stand-Up Ever! – a homage to his ranking in a Channel 4 poll – audiences might be expecting a mediocre talent.

One of the poster quotes describes him as "the worst stand-up I have ever seen", but industry guru Ricky Gervais claims Lee is "the funniest, most cliché-free comedian on the circuit".

The unusual choice of tour name has proved a useful theme for the show, as Lee discusses our roles in life and how we are viewed by our families.

"My mother thinks I'm wasting my life in comedy," he revealed. "Her favourite comedian is Tom O'Connor and she keeps telling me one of his 'proper' jokes about a sardine. I got half an hour's worth of material out of that joke."

In the mid-90s, Lee and comedy partner Richard Herring enjoyed a spell as student heroes with BBC2 series Fist of Fun and This Morning With Richard Not Judy. Now 39, Lee is slightly bemused by the apparent nostalgia for their surreal old shows.

"When we started out as a double act, the viewing figures weren't great and nobody came to our live shows," he said. "So it was strange to realise that people viewed us in that fond way. Now people who liked us back then bring their kids to my show. But the growth of the internet means people are discovering them again and talking about new comedies."

Lee's first brush with major mainstream success was to become one of the most painful episodes in his career, when he was asked to direct and contribute to the hugely controversial stage show Jerry Springer: The Opera in 2001.

When it ran at London's National Theatre for four months in 2003, Lee described that period as "the highlight of my life".

But after a four-year run in theatres and a good deal of critical acclaim, the opera attracted the attention of Christian Right groups and the British National Party. The massive protests and media debate that followed effectively derailed the production, leaving Lee disillusioned with mainstream theatre.

Also a novelist and a rock music critic for the Sunday Times, Lee is dedicated to providing alternative entertainment and escaping "the squares". If anything good came out of his Jerry Springer experience, he claimed, it was the chance to kill off the show while it was still worth watching.

He said: "Most things do become worse with popularity. When I was a kid, indie music and alternative comedy was just for the weirdos, but now you get football fans going to comedy gigs and listening to Oasis."

"Now I think what's left for all the misfits? I left my last management company because they were trying to get me a late-night ITV slot, as if that was the logical end point for my career. But I didn't want that."

"I would like more money, though, so that's why I'm writing the next series of My Family. That's a joke, by the way."

• Stewart Lee is appearing at the Gulbenkian Theatre, Canterbury, at 7.45pm on Friday, October 5. Tickets cost £14/£12. To book, you can phone 01227 769075, or visit www.gulbenkiantheatre.co.uk.

Released last Friday.

Journey into the unknown

BY ROBIN WALKER

KURT RUSSELL has been working as an actor in Hollywood since he was a child in the 60s, but he's about as different as can be from the typical Tinseltown thespian.

For one, he is a card-carrying member of the National Rifle Association and an admitted Republican, something a lot of similar-minded stars have chosen to keep under wraps in the liberal world of showbiz.

"There were instances where people would call me up and say 'This director was afraid of working with you because of your politics'," said the 56-year-old, who dubs himself a libertarian. "That started to change about 10 years ago," he continued. "Writers stopped trying to turn me into a wooden Republican along the lines they were doing to Charlton Heston. Now I can go to a party and not feel so outcast."

He is also unafraid to admit that acting is one of the easier professions and something that has got him into trouble with those who prefer to play the 'artiste'.

"To go on about acting as art is ridiculous," he said. "You don't have to be gifted just to hit a mark and say a line. As far as I'm concerned that's 90 per cent of the job. Anyone who finds acting difficult just shouldn't be doing it."

Indeed, the reluctant professional does make his latest role look easy, playing a psychotic driver called Stuntman Mike in Quentin Tarantino's new film, Death Proof.

A heartless but charismatic villain, Mike cajoles young women into his specially-adapted car for a journey that normally ends in tragedy.

"I just took one word and ran with it - coward," said Kurt of his approach to the character. "This is a guy who kills women. I think it's the core of all these psycho-killer characters, especially this one."

VIEW THIS PREVIEW

yourkenttv.co.uk

The film, a blend of slasher flick and car chase action, sees Mike getting more and more deranged.

"He's not one character all the way through. He's got issues with pain," said Russell.

"I said to Quentin 'Why don't we do something different here at the end? Why don't we really go with this word 'coward'? So we went all the way down that road," he said.

It's certainly a return to the scarier side of Kurt's portfolio, the veteran screen star having cornered the market in horror as a younger man in films including The Thing and Escape From New York.

And in a way, Death Proof is a homage to the films of Russell's past. It was originally conceived as a double feature from Tarantino and director Robert Rodriguez, called Grindhouse,

KILLING TIME: Kurt Russell plays Stuntman Mike, a psychotic driver in Tarantino's new film Death Proof and both are apparently fans.

"To be part of, in a weird way, the process of their love affair with movies was a special feeling," said Russell.

Most important to the actor was creating a really memorable screen baddie. "I've never actually seen one of these characters at the end of a movie completely fall apart. It's like when you hammer your finger - you have an idea what it will feel like, but when you actually do it it's way worse than you thought!" he said.

Renowned for his on-screen stunts, Kurt shows no signs of wanting to scale down the action, and does a lot of the incredible driving in the movie himself.

"The problem is you're in the wrong lane doing 100mph," said Russell.

"You have to trust that a coyote won't run into the road or another car slip by one of the roads they've told you are shut off. To put that out of your head and play the character while you're doing it, that's what you get paid to do."

• Death Proof, directed by Quentin Tarantino, was released last Friday.

Let the Oriana take the strain

■ BY JEREMY GATES

WHEN Atlantic breezes nudged up to Force Seven, and Oriana's captain gently applied his accelerator, the P&O cruise ship devised such a beguiling roll that the chairs in the library lounge became positively hypnotic.

Perhaps Nelson's men felt the same in their hammocks. Ongoing research among my fellow passengers found hardly any of us could hold a book or magazine for more than 10 minutes, before zizzing gently off to the Land of Nod.

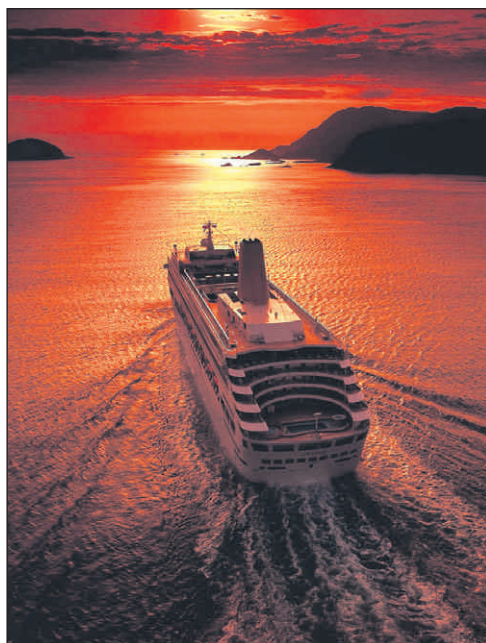

The 70,000-tonne Oriana took over from Canberra as the new mainstay of P&O's fleet back in 1995, when few realised a new boom in cruising lay just around the corner.

Since then the new generation of superliners has taken over, some twice Oriana's size and even bigger. Plenty have become giant floating hotels or shopping malls.

After a major upgrade last autumn Oriana, to her great credit, continues to set her own style: she's Middle England at sea, when so many other ships adopt the brasher approach of the US/Caribbean cruise market.

Although Oriana carried a full complement of 1,800 passengers on our trip, we ordered breakfast in our room – at no extra charge – to watch the sun coming up over the Atlantic breakers entirely alone.

There are still only a handful of shops on board, the cricket bats signed by Don Bradman and Colin Cowdrey are still proudly on show in the Lord's Tavern bar, and a pre-breakfast stroll on the promenade deck brings cheerful smiles of greeting from early retirees sporting the latest leisure gear.

JUST CRUISING: P&O's cruise ship the Oriana sets her own style; a case of Middle England at sea

In line with the latest fashion, of course,

Oriana will serve up meals around the clock in various bars on the lido deck. But why forgo the pleasant evening ritual of dressing to a modestly respectable level for either first or second sitting of dinner in the formal restaurants?

We thought the quality of the food this time was even better than on our first visit.

Before each stop, there's a duty-free sale of 'take ashore' items – from spirits to cigarettes – to boost takings.

With so many things to do on board, ports of call passed in something of a blur – and few passengers seemed bothered about where they went anyway.

The city of Corunna is a nicer corner of northern Spain than it looks at first sight. Santa Cruz, on the northern shore of Tenerife, is being impressively revamped to give this beleaguered island a new, upmarket image.

Lanzarote I can't recall with pleasure, because I ended up amid the boozy bars of Puerto del Carmen, but Madeira is the perfect pitstop on any voyage. That first glimpse of Funchal climbing endlessly up a steep hillside as you pull back the curtains can't fail to take the breath away.

When we climbed the elegant flower gardens of Funchal to look down on the Oriana, in harbour, bedecked in flags from stem to stern, I realised how misguided is the 'expert' who wrote that the QE2 is the last ship to actually look like a cruise ship.

Oriana is a stunner too. If you can get on board for £100 per person per day, with all meals and entertainment provided and occasional ice creams thrown in for free, the opportunity shouldn't be missed.

YOUR WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY RUSSELL GRANT

AQUARIUS (Jan 21 - Feb 19)

EXPANDING your horizons will be easier than usual over the next four weeks. Don't be surprised if you make friends with somebody influential as a result of your activities. On a personal note an admirer could become relentless in their pursuit of you. Signing a contract is favoured this week, as is sealing a deal with a neighbour or relative.

TAURUS (Apr 21 - May 21)

THERE'S never been a better time to launch a job search or exercise programme. If you're happy with your current employer, you may want to negotiate a better package or added perks. Dealings with a bureaucratic institution could finally be wrapped up, giving you the green light to get your plans up and running.

LEO (July 24 - Aug 23)

THE next four weeks promise to be a busy time. It's vital you keep on top of phone calls, emails, and text messages or an important deal could fall through the cracks. If you've already got a partner, arrange a fun mini break for you both. Special recognition could be given to you soon, opening the door to a whole new set of career options.

SCORPIO (Oct 24 - Nov 22)

YOU'LL be keeping a low profile between now and late October. It's easy to negotiate a great financial deal from behind the scenes. If you've been interviewing for jobs, you could get a solid offer by the end of the week. Having this position makes it easier to assert your ideas with confidence. Pursue a course of study between now and the end of the year.

PISCES (Feb 20 - Mar 20)

GETTING closer to the one you love may be your first order of business, but don't let personal issues stop you attending to financial matters. You may also want to nudge your older relatives into making similar arrangements. Wrap up any ongoing salary negotiations if you can this week for your chances of earning more money will be strong.

GEMINI (May 22 - Jun 22)

THIS week begins the most romantic phase of the year for you. If you're single, be sure to hit as many social gatherings as possible. If you already have a partner, arrange a trip for you and your amour. Your connection with a large organisation could come to an end allowing you to shift your focus to increasing your income between now and December.

VIRGO (Aug 24 - Sep 23)

THIS week brings an opportunity to make money by doing something you love. Don't be afraid to send your CV to an employer that has always interested you. If you're happy with your current post, ask the boss if you can work from home. A decision regarding an insurance payment, tax refund, or inheritance could be made in your favour.

When this Belle rings Billie comes a calling

■ BY ANDY WELCH

WHEN the name Billie Piper comes up in conversation, one of two images tend to spring to mind for most people.

Either as a teen popstar or as Rose Tyler in the resurrected and hugely successful Doctor Who.

From this week she will add a third public face, and this one is very grown up.

She appears in Secret Diary Of A Call-Girl, in which she plays prostitute Belle de Jour – a true story adapted for the new ITV2 series.

'Belle' – her real identity has never been revealed – worked as a high-class escort in London for years, before detailing her exploits in a famous online blog and later in two books, The Intimate Adventures Of A London Call-Girl and The Further Adventures Of A London Call-Girl.

"It's intimate," said Billie of the eight-part series. "Really intimate. I'm really scared, if I'm honest. Well, just... I'm quite nervous, you know, because of the nature of the show."

"I hope people think it's been handled well and that at times it makes people laugh and that people can get over the initial shock factor of the piece."

It may indeed come as a shock to some viewers to see Billie – who celebrated her 25th birthday this month – writhing around in her underwear, and of course, in some scenes, doing what prostitutes do – having sex. But the young actress is more than aware of what she's letting herself in for.

Billie said: "I considered this job more than I considered anything before. It's such a different world to what I know. Obviously it's quite full on and it's relentless. It's not just one

ALL CHANGE: From travelling the galaxy with Dr Who, Billie Piper plays a high-class prostitute in her latest role sex scene here and there, it's... endless!"

Many people would happily admit that acting out such scenes in front of a room full of camera crew would make us blush, but Billie maintains she didn't get embarrassed.

"You talk endlessly about it and you choreograph it like a contemporary dance," she said.

As viewers will soon find out, Billie spends a lot of time in her skimpies, but she looks good, make no mistake. So is her super-toned body the result of hours and hours in the gym?

"No, not the gym. I don't like the gym at all, makes me want to kill myself. But I have been running outside quite a bit, and I'd just finished a play," she said.

Despite winning a Guardian newspaper award for Blog of the Year and publishing two books, there is still some doubt by sceptics as to whether Belle was a real person.

Billie, however, insists that she met the real Belle, who helped her to prepare for the role.

"She's sweet and she's interesting. She's very clever as well," Billie says.

As well as being impressed by the former call-girl – who has apparently now retired – Billie had a few questions of her own for Belle.

"I wanted to know when she was with a bloke, what their faces were like," she says.

Pardon?
"I wanted to know if they were bolshy and turned into egomaniacs or power-freaks," she added.

"Belle told me that it was quite the opposite. Men get really scared and vulnerable and nervous, worrying about if they are going to be exposed to the point where they can't perform. I didn't think it would be like that, so it was quite fascinating really."

SECRET DIARY OF A CALL-GIRL
ITV2 Thursday, September 27, 10pm

"I now have a steady stream of customers and can sleep much easier at night. Discover my secret..."

Every business would love some more customers and more sales. Jocelyn Young of Dance Connection, a Dance studio business claims to have her own secret weapon to growing her business.

"Like a lot of businesses we reached a point where we needed more customers. We decided with the growth of the Internet to drag ourselves into the 21st century and market online."

Our existing web designer didn't have the knowledge to get us listed on search engines or to create an automatic way to collect new leads. Our website was just not being seen by enough potential customers or getting people to contact us!"

Jocelyn called Rob Wilson at Websites In Business after being recommended to him by one of her suppliers.

"Since Rob started working with us, within weeks our business has gone from strength to strength. Having Rob on board I feel confident we can continue to reach our potential clientele and expand our business."

I am sure without Rob and Websites In Business I would be finding things extremely difficult now and I would be finding it hard to sleep at night!"

If YOU want YOUR business to expand online then call Rob Wilson on 01732 522244 and he will give you a FREE, no obligation consultation.

LOCAL TV ONLINE

MISSING FRIENDS: A non-profit-making, three-minute music video called Missing Friends/Amigos Perdidos, made by children, for children. Explanation: "We know it won't win an Oscar, but just the same we think it is beautiful because it's a film of our children capturing the innocence and joy of their childhood. What could be more precious? Sadly, thousands of children just like them disappear each and every year, and the names of Ben Needham, Yereimi Vargas and Madeleine McCann have been added to that growing list.

"None of us can afford to be indifferent. Evil flourishes when good people choose to do nothing. The reality is we are part of a community that is local, national and worldwide, especially where this cause is concerned.

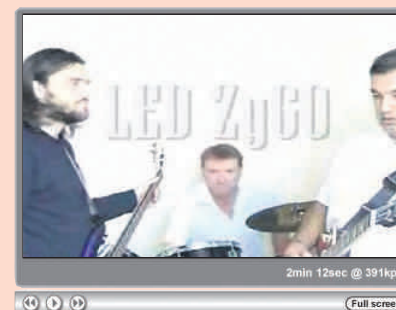

"We can all be more proactive and a little less reactive. Together, we can make a difference, but only if we try. This is the least we owe Ben, Yereimi and Madeleine, and every other missing child and tormented family that has suffered through this never-ending tragedy. Let's all protect the innocent."

SHAMEFUL BEHAVIOUR: Local rising rock band Shameful Behaviour perform So Fine at the now-lamented Ashford Rocks in April.

CRAZY TRAIN: Thanet classic rock covers band Crazy Train playing live at the Bradstow Mill in Broadstairs this month.

WANTED: LED ZyGO member Alan says: "We thought we'd get a band together, playing Led Zep. Only thing is, we don't have a singer yet."

SIX YEARS LOST: Band perform their song, The Sky is Empty, live at the Shrimpers Regatta on Gravesend Prom – on a rather wet and windy day.

MUSIC BY YERK: Enjoy the sounds of UK electronic artist Yerk, otherwise known as Mr Nick Burkinyoung.

PROPERTY NEWS

Exchange rate matters when buying overseas

PROPERTY investors looking to the overseas market could stand to lose more than £3,500, according to experts at the Property Investor Show.

At a time when the pound is strong against some of the world's leading currencies, second homebuyers and property investors should be looking to cash in on exchange rates when transferring money for the property purchase.

Instead, the investor's group claim many are losing money on this important transaction simply by using a high street bank rather than a foreign exchange specialist which offers a more competitive rate.

Mark O'Sullivan, head of trading at Currencies Direct: "Aside from a UK home, buying a property abroad is likely to be the most expensive purchase you will make and it is crucial to get the best deal on the exchange rate to ensure you don't lose out when transferring money overseas."

"Using a specialist rather than a bank could save thousands of pounds which can be spent on other initial costs. This figure doesn't even take into account the transfer fees that many banks charge, which would inflate the amount further."

Home owners' fears over interest rate hike

CONCERNS over mortgage rates have intensified this month, according to the latest survey. Website propertyfinder.com's monthly survey uncovered reduced optimism when it comes to house prices across the market.

It is now expected that prices will rise at a rate of 3.9 per cent – roughly in line with wage growth. This represents a slower-than-expected hike in prices, which were forecast for a 5.1 per cent rise over the summer months.

Added to this is the fear that interest rates are set to get higher, meaning more cash outlay for mortgage payers.

Warren Bright, chief executive of propertyfinder.com, said: "Buyers and sellers still expect house prices to rise – just more slowly."

"The housing market has responded to higher base rates and will adjust further thanks to the credit squeeze in the wholesale markets. But for new borrowers, especially those with poorer credit records, mortgages will be harder to come by."

RISE AND FALL: Although August figures show an increase in sales and buyers, there are still concerns over the effect HIPs and interest rates will have on the housing market

Housing market is still clouded by uncertainty

AFTER a slowdown in July the house market is once again picking up pace as estate agents report a rise in sales and buyers looking to snap up a property.

The latest information from the National Association of Estate Agents (NAEA) revealed the upturn with the number of registered buyers, properties on estate agents' books and sales per agent all rising during August.

However, with uncertainty clouding the economic climate, the majority of these figures were still down on the same time last year.

According to the NAEA, the number of people looking to purchase a home increased slightly in August with agents reporting a rise of 3.8 per cent with an average of 326 buyers registered on their books in comparison to the 314 recorded in July.

■ BY ED HILL

While an increase in house hunters is typical for the time of year, this is the lowest reported August rise since 2003, as increasing interest rates and reduced house price inflation cause caution among consumers.

The number of houses for sale increased in August as NAEA members reported an average of 81 properties for sale during the month compared to the 45 properties reported the previous month. The number of sales reported increased in August, with an average of 12 houses sold per agent compared to the 10 properties sold per agent in July.

The number this time last year was 15.

The NAEA blame recent economic movements and introduction of the HIPs legislation for the decrease.

Meanwhile, first-time buyers took a smaller share of the market this summer as their percentage share was reported at 9.7 per cent, compared with 13.4 per cent in August 2006.

This continuing waning in the market can be partly attributed to the turbulent interest rate rises that have led to the current insecurity for this sector.

What's more, it is taking longer to complete house moves – rising from 17 weeks in 2006 to 18.2 in 2007.

NAEA president, Stewart Lilly, said: "The latest figures indicate that a period of low house price inflation may well be on its way."

"However, the recent introduction of the second phase of HIPs is likely to cause more disruption and in particular prompt a 'wait and see' strategy from individuals who are unsure about the full impact of the legislation."

All the comforts of home, none of the worries

After working hard all your life, don't you think you deserve a little pampering? Wouldn't it be nice to enjoy the garden without having to lift a finger, and who wants to worry about all those little jobs that need doing around your home?

McCarthy & Stone may have the solution with their brand new purpose-built retirement development in Margate.

Joyce & Frank Fridds

Joyce and her husband Frank had been living in a three bedroom detached bungalow before moving to Dickens Court.

Joyce said "Neither Frank nor I like gardening and in the bungalow we had so much stuff that we thought we'd better get rid of it and make a new start while we were still fit and healthy.

"As soon as we heard that McCarthy & Stone were building in Cliftonville, we were down to the sales office like a shot."

Peace of Mind

Freedom from security worries makes for a happier, more carefree retirement.

Shortly after moving in, Frank and Joyce went on a cruise to Norway with the peace of mind knowing that their flat would be safe whilst they were away.

Like all McCarthy & Stone developments, Dickens Court has a TV camera entry system at the main entrance and a house manager to keep an eye on things. Furthermore, each apartment is connected to a 24-hour personal emergency system.

Making new Friends

As Dickens Court has filled up with new people, Frank and Joyce have been enjoying the company of their fellow residents.

Frank said "It's great fun now that the social side of things has got going. We're both on the social committee so we find we don't have much time to laze about. Where we were living before we didn't really get to know our neighbours. In fact, we've made more friends since we've been here than we did in the six years we spent in the bungalow."

Dickens Court has been specially designed for people aged 60 and over who enjoy an independent lifestyle.

Other facilities at Dickens Court include a lift to all floors, a laundry room and a guest suite for visiting family and friends.

Dickens Court, Margate.

Apartments at Dickens Court are priced from £129,950.

Show Complex open daily from 10.30am to 5.00pm.

Last Opportunity to buy at award-winning address

Maple Cottages at Stedlyn Retreat

Pond at Stedlyn Retreat

With a commendation from the judges at the Mail on Sunday British Home Awards and the news that it is to be awarded the title of Best New Development by The UK Daily Mail Property Awards later this year, Stedlyn Retreat is clearly a prestigious address. Award-winning housebuilder Millwood Designer Homes now has just one property available to buy at this semi-rural idyll and discerning purchasers should come and see why.

Country charm fused with modern convenience...

The remaining property is an end of terrace mews 3 bedroom cottage, which forms part of the quaint Maple cottages and has the added convenience of a garage. The home blends seamlessly with the surrounding Kent countryside, due to its period style elevations, including reclaimed brickwork and tiles. Purchasers can enjoy the best of modern comforts too, as the interior of the home offers the ultimate in low maintenance living.

Ready to move into...

The home comes complete with fully fitted carpets, light fittings and a landscaped garden enabling you to move straight in.

A premium quality...

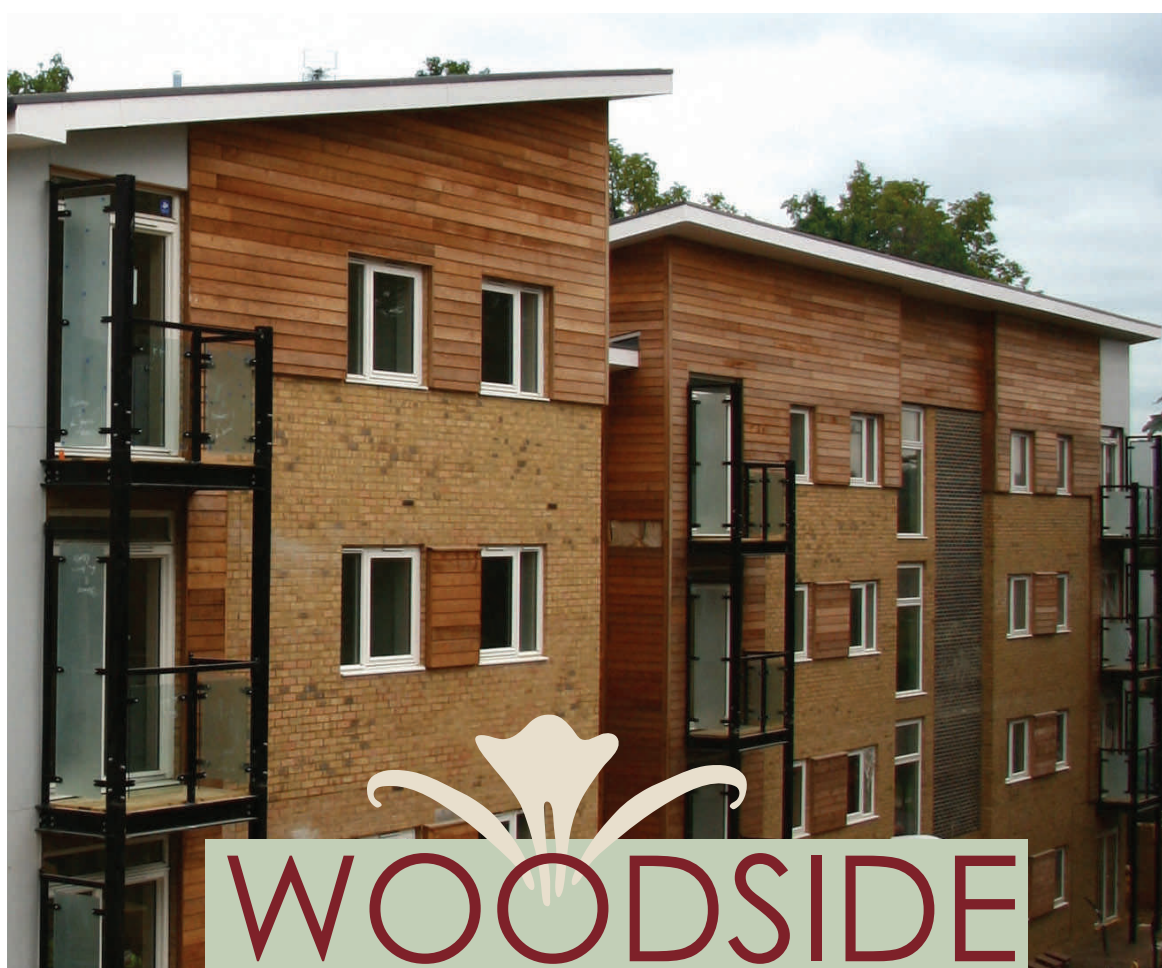

As with all Millwood Designer homes the specification is immaculate. The individually designed kitchen by James Theobald features a wealth of integrated appliances by Smeg, including a double oven, microwave, fridge/freezer and washer/dryer. Fitted wardrobes are included to two of the bedrooms and the master bedroom enjoys a sumptuous en-suite.

Take a closer look...

The home is priced at £279,950. To make an appointment to view, contact the Sales Department at Millwood Designer Homes on 01732 770991.

MOTORS NEWS

Renault customer to hit slopes after win

LUCKY prizewinner Sarah Thorne grabbed skis for her visit to Motorline Renault in Ashford.

Although there was a distinct lack of snow at the Hilton Road dealership, she was gearing up for a winter sports holiday courtesy of the motor group.

She won £350 of holiday vouchers in a summer draw held across Motorline's four Renault service centres: Maidstone, Canterbury, Ashford and Dover.

As a keen skier there was no doubt about how Sarah, from Tenterden, would use her windfall: "I'm delighted. I haven't won anything like this before. I'm planning to use the vouchers towards a skiing holiday next year."

Why green is being highlighted in white

WHITE is the new green, judging by the many white-painted eco-friendly concept cars now produced as CO2 emissions become as crucial as fuel consumption.

Volvo's C30 special (pictured) highlights the trend well, but Fiat's small car line-up makes it favourite to lead the environmental battle.

Group chief Luca di Meo said: "We aim to be the manufacturer with the lowest CO2 emissions in Europe – and want to do this the Fiat way, providing customers with everyday solutions to reduce the environmental impact of personal transportation."

Micra '2008' due for launch next month

NISSAN has revamped its distinctive Micra for 2008 models, launched in October.

Trim levels and colour specs have also been revised to harmonise with the bigger Note hatchback/MPV and hugely successful Qashqai.

Features such as an audible speed warning system and Bluetooth phone link are now standard on certain versions and all Micras will now have a jack socket so that MP3 players can be played through the car's sound system.

Prices are also largely unchanged, starting from £7,495.

IMPROVED LOOK: New Toyota Prius is easier on the eye compared to its 'wheelie-bin' predecessor, but we're still waiting for an environmentally friendly car that thrills without waking the nasty, dirty petrol engine.

So, within an hour you have been through rehab and instead of risking road rage you are waiting around like a highway hippie delivering the milk.

The brakes are clever too, because they recover what would be lost energy on a normal car and channel it back into the car's battery – good for stop-start town traffic.

But all this technology costs. The cheapest Prius is nearly £18,000 – Toyota's equivalent conventional family hatchback, the Auris, starts at around £12,000 – and Toyota is rumoured to be subsidising every Prius sold.

Greens and gadget fans apart, buyers may also be put off by the relatively untried technology – despite an impressive eight-year/100,000-mile warranty on the hybrid system itself.

The car is also 'extremely' automatic – you simply select forward or reverse and go from A to B – which makes it a bit dull to drive even though the car handles and rides well.

On the other hand, it is a practical car to live with; the hybrid powertrain and batteries do not impinge on the car's ability to function as a roomy family hatchback.

USED CAR ROUND-UP: OUR PICK FROM A KEY SECTOR

BEST-SELLING FAMILY HATCHBACKS

LOOKING for a car that does it all? Start shopping for a family hatchback; it seats five, can be crammed like a small van and represents a good balance of space, flexibility and economy... providing you don't go for the 'hot hatch' version. Family hatches dominate the UK top 10 – all three of our recommendations are regulars – and the end product needs to be good to compete at all against talented opposition. Market clout helps, of course, but this trio deserves to be there on merit too – check out the profiles below.

FORD FOCUS

BRITAIN'S favourite car. Or is it? Some say it's number one through Ford's formidable market share. Fair point, but the Focus is also great to drive, practical, well-made and blessed with good engines. For second-hand buyers there is a fantastic choice of power – including the rapid ST – trim levels and body styles: a smart saloon and estate plus a coupé convertible. The car's popularity and ordinary looks are a weakness though and reason enough for some buyers to look elsewhere.

VAUXHALL ASTRA

SUFFERS like the Focus from being a common sight, thanks to its lofty new car top 10 sales position. But nobody could accuse the Astra of being dreary looking; Renault Megane aside, it is the most sharply styled family hatchback on sale. Vauxhall has also differentiated between the three-door model, dubbed the Sport Hatch, and the five-door workhorse. There is a longer wheelbase estate too. Engine options, including impressive Fiat-derived diesels, are among the best around.

VW GOLF

IT costs extra to get into a Golf, signalling the power of a more premium bonnet badge. Highly-regarded diesels also keep used prices up, while the GTI hot hatch lends glamour to the whole range. Interior quality and ambience is top notch too and the driving experience is possibly best in class. That said, the Golf suffers from fairly dull styling and some buyers might be tempted by sexier and cheaper used rivals such as the Citroën C4 and Megane.

Negotiable + car allowance, relocation package and final salary pension scheme
COMPANY:
Dover Harbour Board
Europe's busiest and most successful ferry port, we handle 15 million passengers, 3 million tourist vehicles and 2 million freight vehicles a year. With these figures set to increase, we are investing around £300m in a new ferry terminal and associated infrastructure including a marina, property development and traffic regulation. With the momentum already building there's never been a more exciting time to join our team. You'll be heavily involved in all aspects of construction, from feasibility, design and detailing through to Project Management for new works and the maintenance of existing installations. Our forward workload is hugely varied, so you'll be working not only on maritime-related projects, but also civil engineering and building schemes. To make an impact, you'll need to be a widely experienced Civil Engineer (Chartered or Incorporated) or a graduate with some experience, working towards corporate membership of the Institution of Civil Engineers. You'll be given full training and support to gain this and when achieved, this will open up a clearly defined career path. A background in project management and delivery will prove invaluable, as will experience within a port or maritime environment. We are also interested in hearing from new graduates for future engineering opportunities.

It's not impossible to change someone's attitude as long as you're prepared to work at it – and our staff always are. So whether you've done a similar job before or not, the most important thing is that you can empathise with young people to gradually bring out the best in them. It's a role that requires intelligence and common sense, plus the knowledge that sometimes you have to earn respect and can't just demand it. Bring us all that, and we'll train you for a career that will see you turn young lives around. Go to www.workwithyoungpeople.co.uk for more details and to apply.

'Outdated family doc' a hazard to firms' health

EMPLOYEES and businesses are being unnecessarily burdened by the 'outdated family doctor service', the CBI claims.

CBI South East regional director, Malcolm Hyde, said: "Official figures show 10 million adults in England alone cannot book an appointment with a GP more than 48 hours in advance. It's time there was real and fundamental reform with the needs of the patient coming first."

"A healthy workforce is as important to employers as a workforce with the skills needed to compete. An employee who isn't there because they have to wait around in a GP's surgery is a lost order or an unanswered phone call."

Innovation Centre pulls in more new business

MEDWAY Innovation Centre (MIC) is approaching 50 per cent capacity. The centre is a joint venture between BAe Systems, Royal Bank of Scotland, University of Greenwich, University of Kent and Medway council which aims to develop a cluster of growing technology businesses in Medway.

Recent new clients include RED Ltd a start-up company specialising in Education Recruitment which combines video interviews and documents through one website in one place, accessible only by their clients and themselves.

The MIC is the first phase of a much larger development to grow a cluster of technology centres in Medway.

THINKING PROCESS: With more and more new employment regulations being put on small businesses it is good practise to take early action to insure there is little disruption

New rules will affect every business leader

EMPLOYERS need to get to grips now with upcoming changes to employment regulations, a business support agency has warned.

As of October 1, there will be an increase in the statutory holiday entitlement to 4.8 weeks (24 days if you work a five-day week) and a rise in the minimum wage.

The adult rate, for workers aged 22 and over, will increase to £5.52 an hour.

And Business Link says local firms should be sure to have the right processes in place to minimise disruption to their operation.

The quarterly South East Business Monitor – a quarterly survey of 1,800 of the region's small-and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs) – found recent changes to regulations such as the smoking ban, paternity and maternity rights, and age discrimination are perceived by business owners to have had little impact on their companies.

Although almost one third (32 per cent) of Kent companies identify red tape as a constraint on their business, the majority have a good understanding of the latest regulations.

Of the SMEs involved in the survey, introducing a smoke-free workplace (84 per cent), age discrimination (82 per cent) and maternity and paternity rights (72 per cent) legislation said there was no impact on their business.

Business Link's Linda Bennett said: "It seems that people running businesses have a 'can do attitude' and simply get on with the day-to-day running of their companies.

"Businesses are generally more affected by the fear of red tape than the actual implications of new regulations.

"Understanding new legislation is a vital part of coping with the changes that you may need to make to your business. Getting to grips with regulations can seem daunting at first, but we are able to advise on how to stay within the law. Taking early action can mean there is very little impact on your business.

"It can be difficult to find the time, particularly for small businesses, to keep up with changing legislation and take the necessary action."

Business Link has drawn up a practical guide to explaining the legal responsibilities and how best to prepare.

Teams net Hol load of goals

HOLCOMBE ladies began their season in style with a 6-0 demolition of Bromley & Beckenham.

Jennie Hoyte scored four times for the home side, with Candice Forword and Lauren Osborn completing the scoring in their first league game since promotion.

The visitors finished mid-table in the Ladies East League Premier Division last season, but they were overwhelmed by the fluidity of Holcombe's play.

The ladies seconds also thrashed a team from Bromley & Beckenham, running out 7-0 winners.

The men's first team also began the season in confident fashion in an open game against Whitchurch.

Dave Matthews was the star, bagging four goals as Holcombe's superior cutting edge made the difference as they won 6-3.

On Saturday the men's firsts host Sevenoaks in the second round of the English Hockey Cup, starting at 6pm.

was replaced by Adam Nowland, who began a one-month loan deal with the Gills last Thursday.

The change unsettled the visitors and Forest took advantage with two minutes left in the half when Agogo headed in from close range.

It was a huge blow to the visitors and Docherty thought it changed the game.

He said: "We started brightly but Forest scored their first at a crucial time.

"If we could have kept it 0-0 at the break then it may have turned out differently but I'm disappointed for the boys because we had a pre-conceived idea on how we wanted to play and we did that.

Gillingham reverted back to a 4-4-2 after the break. The change of shape almost made an impact as the hard working Delroy Facey had a goal disallowed for offside.

On the hour mark Forest took control as Agogo swooped to double the lead. The former Bristol Rovers striker made the game safe 12 minutes later by completing his hat-trick with a simple tap-in.

The rout was finished off six minutes from time when substitute Emile Sinclair scored the fourth from close range.

Although disappointed, Docherty paid tribute to a Forest side tipped for promotion.

He said: "Fair play to Forest, they deserved to win the game and when we changed it in the second half they showed what a quality side they can be.

"They have good players across the pitch and they were able to exploit our weaknesses with some slick passing."

The result left Gillingham in 20th place in League One, a single point ahead of the four teams below them.

Their next match is the eagerly-awaited home clash against Leeds United.

Faulty starter motor proves to be Dynamos undoing

DRY ICE: Sunday's Invicta game was abandoned due to a problem with the rink's ice machine

INVICTA Dynamos' cup match against Slough Jets on Sunday was abandoned minutes before the start when the rink's ice machine stopped working.

The Gillingham Ice Bowl had problems with the machine over the weekend and the game was abandoned when the starter motor failed as the players were completing their warm-ups.

Invicta coach Kevin Parrish was frustrated with the outcome, but felt the abandonment was the right option.

He said: "The ice was too dangerous to play on because the rink had been used all day so it was very rough.

"It was just one of those things, no one is to blame – I'm just glad it was not a league game where we might have lost points."

With the packed schedule of both teams in the weeks ahead it is likely the game will either be awarded to Slough or the return match on October 6 will count for both results.

Up next for the Mos is a trip to Basingstoke on Sunday to take on the Buffalo in the ENIHL Cup.

Parrish's side are still on a high after the 10-2 win against Romford Spitfires in the competition, which sent them to the top of the group.

The coach knows it will not be easy an easy game, but he is pleased with the season so far.

He said: "It will be a tough game because they move the puck around very well, but hopefully we can come away with the two points.

"I'm very happy with things, it is early days but the squad looks hungry. Against Romford we were missing three defenders but now we have virtually a fully-fit squad so it is looking good for us."

Finishing touch evades Chatham

FOOTBALL

BY DAVID PRITCHARD

Chatham Town 0 Walton & Hersham 1

A LACK of cutting-edge cost Chatham Town for the second game running as they crashed to another defeat.

A first-half penalty separated the sides in a game which bore few clear-cut chances.

Assistant coach Steve Best was pleased with the performance, but admitted, like the previous defeat to Margate, that his team had problems converting opportunities.

He said: "It's the same old story about not taking our chances."

"I think we have played really well today, I can't fault their performance or work ethic but it is about finishing. Walton only had one chance and they scored from it and that's the difference at the moment."

The Chats were on the back foot for much of the first half but they had the best chance to score on 29 minutes. Tyran James went clear but his shot lacked conviction and the goalkeeper smothered the ball.

Walton punished the home side for the miss and took the lead six minutes later. In the only fluent move of the match precise passing opened Chatham's defence and John Whitehouse brought down Rob George for a penalty.

Nathan Graham dispatched the spot kick to put Walton in front.

Chatham came close to levelling two minutes later as Dominic Elmes hit a dipping volley that beat the keeper but grazed the crossbar.

The game degenerated in the second half as neither side could create a clear chance. Rob George was sent off in injury time for a second booking but it was too late to alter the game.

Manager Phil Miles is continuing his recovery from a back problem and could be back for Saturday's game against Croydon.

PACE AND POWER: Billy Humphrey scored the decisive try as Medway beat Old Williamsonian to get through to next round of EDF Energy Vase

MEDWAY rugby club are through to the next round of the EDF Energy Vase after a 15-0 victory over Old Williamsons.

A well-organised Williamsonian side caused Medway a few problems in the first half but it was the away team who opened the scoring with a penalty kicked by Dafydd Ruffel.

Medway dominated the scrum and maintained their territorial advantage but poor decision making stopped them from extending their lead.

However, their perseverance paid off on 25 minutes when Medway centre Danny Williams broke through the defence and he scored under the posts.

Ruffel added the extras to go into the break with a lead of 10-0.

Both sides upped their game in the second half but Medway's defence were dominant, forcing Williamsonian to turn the ball over on numerous occasions.

Medway sealed victory with another try when Medway No8 Billy Humphrey picked up the ball after winning a scrum against the head.

and power was too much for the Williamsonian defence and he crossed the line.

Ruffel couldn't add the conversion and the score stayed at 15-0 at the final whistle.

After the match, Medway coach Taff Gwilliam said: "The home side deserve a lot of credit. Their new coach has worked wonders and They never gave up and caused us some serious problems in defence."

"They are clearly a much better side than the team we beat three times last year."

"This has been good preparation for the start of our league campaign after winning the league and cup double last year. We will be facing a higher quality of rugby and will treat each game as a cup final"

Medway begin their league campaign next weekend when they travel to Cranbrook.

SPORT IN BRIEF

Lordswood set to take on Ashford in Kent Cup

LORDSWOOD begin their Kent Intermediate Cup campaign on Saturday with a home tie against Ashford Town reserves.

The hosts have had an inconsistent start to the Kent League Premier season, and sit mid-table after the opening five games.

The visitors will be in a confident mood of progressing after an unbeaten start to the season which included a 7-0 win against Lordswood reserves a month ago.

The game kicks off at the Lordswood Leisure Centre at 3pm.

Gills Ladies aim to stop red-hot Northampton

GILLINGHAM Ladies are in action this weekend when they travel to Northampton Ladies in the South East Combination women's league.

Gillingham have lost three times this season and will hope for a return to the form saw them beat Bedford 5-2. They were unlucky to not to score points against Ipswich in a seven-goal thriller.

Northampton go into the fixture on a three game unbeaten run, scoring 13 goals in the process.

Crunch match for Lords against Old Dunstonians

LORDSWOOD Rugby Club face their stiffest challenge of the season so far with a trip to Old Dunstonians on Saturday.

The teams will go into the game knowing that the winners will become early candidates for promotion.

Both sides have made a good start to the season, especially the hosts, who have scored heavily in their opening games.

The teams were promoted to London 3 South East together three seasons ago and since then both have established themselves in the division.

Cody flying high ahead of Big Air tournament

MEDWAY snowboarder Cody Heirons will be in action in the Warmwell Quiksilver Artificial Big Air Championships this weekend, after competing in the snowboardcross event last weekend in Norwich.

The 14-year-old has started the season brilliantly, recording two podium places this year at the British Slopestyle championship event in Chatham.

He also scooped third place in the Big Air competition at the Chatham Ski and Snowboard centre earlier this month.
